The Equine Emergency – how to keep calm and carry on!
Monday 7th October 2019

Equine Emergencies can take many different forms and come with their own unique set of pressures. From the panicked client to the distressed horse there is rarely more pressure on you to make the right decisions quickly.

This North East regional meeting is aimed at covering a range of common equine emergencies the first opinion practitioner is likely to see. The course will provide information on how to approach them in order to make decisions easier and considerably less stressful for all concerned.
