

Osberton International Horse Trials Event Incident Management

 Friday 9th October 2020

Course Description

Held in conjunction with Osberton International Horse Trials, this new course will cover all major aspects of working at horse trials. An all-encompassing course with practical speakers with huge amounts of hands-on experience, this is a must for all those interested or currently working at horse trials or other equine events.

Learn and discuss practical tips associated with event vetting, discuss how to manage horses overnight, with no drugs, fine tune your approaches to scenarios and find out how the course builder approaches fence building to maximise safety and challenge the competitors. Find out how course doctors work and how they approach injuries on the course.

This course has been organised during COVID-19. It will be based outdoors on Osberton cross country course or in a marquee. All social distancing biosecurity requirements will be carried out to prioritise the safety of all course participants, speakers and helpers. We expect delegates to comply with any and all government requirements at the time the course is run.
